SAFETY DATA SHEETS or SDS

(previously called Material Safety Data Sheets or MSDS)

The Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA), specifically 29 CFR Part 1910 Section 1200 (b)(5), stipulates that MSDS (and therefore SDS) are not required for certain chemicals<sup>1</sup>. Section 1200 (b)(5) iii<sup>2</sup> states that this exemption applies to any food or food ingredient when they are subject to the labeling requirements of the FDA or USDA.

All egg products must be produced under the supervision of USDA (US Department of Agriculture) and must comply with 9 CFR part 590, which includes regulations for all product labeling. As such, all egg products are exempt from requirements related to Safety Data Sheets.

<sup>1</sup> 29 CFR 1910.1200(b)(5):

This section does not require labeling of the following chemicals:

Any food, food additive, color additive, drug, cosmetic, or medical or veterinary device or product, including materials intended for use as ingredients in such products (e.g. flavors and fragrances), as such terms are defined in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.) or the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act of 1913 (21 U.S.C. 151 et seq.), and regulations issued under those Acts, when they are subject to the labeling requirements under those Acts by either the Food and Drug Administration or the Department of Agriculture.
